Sirine Asfour is a trainee lawyer at Walder Wyss in Geneva.

She studied at the University of Geneva, where she obtained a Bachelor of Arts in International Relations (2021). She completed her first year of law studies at the University of Fribourg before obtaining her Bachelor of Law at the University of Geneva (BLaw 2024), a Master of Law (MLaw 2026) and the Certificate of Advanced Legal Studies (ECAV 2025). She also holds a Master 1 in Intellectual Property and New Technology Law (2025) and a Master 2 in Space and Telecommunications Law (2026), both from Université Paris-Saclay.

Sirine Asfour specialises in technology regulation and export control. She gained experience in trade compliance within the legal and contracts department of an international industrial group. As co-founder of the Swiss Space Law Forum, she contributes to space-law discussions in Switzerland and internationally. She also completed a summer internship at Walder Wyss (2024) and distinguished herself in public speaking during her studies, winning first prize at both the Geneva and Romandy Eloquence Competitions (2024).

Sirine Asfour works in French and English. She is registered with the Geneva cantonal registry of trainee lawyers.
